Paul Quinn Unveils New Basketball Court

WHAT: On October 19, Paul Quinn will unveil a newly-designed basketball court designed by Ryan Parker of FreeKey Three. The new court features historical images of the Dallas skyline, including the winged Pegasus. The goal of the design is to highlight both the College's and southern Dallas' connection to the city.

The basketball court is housed in the new 1,100-person capacity Health & Wellness Center – the first new building on campus in almost 50 years. The facility will be used by Paul Quinn's varsity basketball and cheer and dance teams, Health & Wellness majors and select community partners.

Naming rights for the basketball court are available as well as several other sponsorship opportunities. Interested organizations or individuals may reach out to Alexia Valencia, Development Associate for Paul Quinn at AValencia@pqc.edu for more details.

The school's current gym, located near the campus' WE Over Me Farm, will remain fully operational and will be used by the varsity volleyball team, intramurals, youth basketball teams, and for the Dr. Frederick D. Haynes, III Global Preparatory Academy at Paul Quinn College and KIPP Oak Cliff Academy.
